

Abstract

A system and method provide digital tokens for use in e-commerce. The tokens are transferable and can be purchased for another person to spend. Such tokens are of particular use in a system and method to distribute licenses for copyrighted material 5 separate from the copyrighted material itself.